Tova & Barry Adesnik

A young Ethiopian Christian boy from a Sudanese refugee camp is transported to Israel as part of Operation Moses—a 1984 rescue mission that airlifted 8,000 Ethiopian Jews. The boy's mother has already lost two children and saw Operation Moses as a last chance to save her son's life. She tells him to pretend to be a Jewish boy to insure his inclusion in the airlift. In a torturous split second, she sends him away, exhorting him to "Go, live and become!" The two secrets the little boy who becomes Shlomo carries with him—that he is not a Jew or an orphan—haunt him throughout the new life he begins in Israel.

The movie is free on TUBI and Hoopla
